SENSE of SECURITY

Financial security for Colorado breast cancer patients

Sense of Security seeks to provide relief from financial hardship and enhance the quality of life for breast cancer patients in treatment living in Colorado.

In the effort to beat breast cancer, most people and organizations raise funds for research, participate in support groups, and fund treatment for needy patients. Only patients and their families worry about other basic needs such as housing, food, utilities or transportation.

Often moderate to low income people diagnosed with breast cancer become incapacitated and unable to work and earn an income. Without an income, one cannot pay bills that come due each month. Financial stressors contribute to health stressors, affecting a patient's ability to seek treatment, heal and recover.

Sense of Security has provided more than $1.8 million toward housing, utilities, groceries, transportation, insurance premiums, and other basic living expenses of breast cancer patients in treatment. They have assisted more than 1,300 Coloradans living with breast cancer in 48 counties statewide - and counting!

Sense of Security is proud that so much of their funding goes to ensure that breast cancer patients can stay in their homes and have enough good food to nourish them during their debilitating treatment.

100% of proceeds from the Drink Pink menu will be donated to help breast cancer patients through Sense of Security.
